KLIMATEAM

The Klimateam is a group of citizens of the municipality who are committed to concrete climate protection measures at the local level.

For us, members of déi gréng, it is important to be heard as citizens and to have the right to participate in decisions.

Why do we get involved in the Klimateam?

Lisa Clees:
I practice beekeeping to contribute to the protection of our pollinators, and I would like to see many more bee- and insect-friendly flowers and trees planted in our municipality.

Paul Bressler:
Ignoring climate protection will cost us dearly in the future. However, this is not about giving things up: using self-produced energy and moving with it can—just like better and more sustainable mobility—also be enjoyable. We need a municipality prepared for the heat linked to climate change.

Danielle Thurmes:
It is important for me to take responsibility to protect our nature and environment and to ensure a livable future for future generations. That is why I want our cycling paths to be well connected and safe, and for a cycling school to be offered so that children, young people, and adults are encouraged to use bicycles in everyday life.

Marc Pletsch:
It is important for me to reduce soil sealing in the municipality so that water can infiltrate, plants can grow, nature retains its space, and houses stay dry.

Marc Lukas:
Europe must finally become autonomous. That is why, in the future, every house should be equipped with a heat pump and solar panels. For our political leaders, this means investing without compromise in renewable energy—at the municipal level, but also in collaboration with citizens and private individuals.

We are actively involved in municipal commissions, in the Climate and Nature Pact team, and in the local section.

From 2011 to 2021, engaged citizens were able to take part in decision-making within the municipal commissions. We want to restore this dynamic and bring citizens' voices back to the heart of local politics.

BUDGET: TAKING RESPONSIBILITY – NOW!

In our opposition policy, we bring forward ideas and question the current municipal policy of the CSV-LSAP majority.

BUDGET 2026

TAKING RESPONSIBILITY – NOW! 1/2

👉 🔍 We view the 2026 municipal budget critically, but we remain constructive.

👉 ☑️ Positive points:

- More revenue from state contributions and fewer expenses for TICE – opportunities to carry out important projects
- Good approaches for sustainable development (finally!)
- Investments in education (infrastructure)
- Soft mobility is supported

VIVIANE PETRY

BUDGET 2026
TAKING RESPONSIBILITY – NOW! 2/2

❌ But it does not go far enough:

- No new photovoltaic installations on municipal buildings – the energy transition needs a faster pace!
- Not enough ambition for biodiversity and the nature pact
- Building walls is not enough for education – at the SEA there is a lack of specialized staff
- No coherent network for pedestrians and cyclists
- No participatory budget – citizen involvement in decisions is lacking

👉 Conclusion: Good approaches, but too many missed opportunities.

For us, the Greens, it is important to actively contribute to improving our environment. Together with the municipality, we, déi gréng, work to implement effective measures at the local level.

Protecting nature and the climate is not a luxury, but a necessity—and also a social issue.

- War makes energy expensive
- Renewable energy – a matter of security
- Sun and wind make us independent
- Energy independence starts at the municipal level
